FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Charmaine Wheatley - June 22 through July 8, 1999
Opening night: June 22 (6-8pm)

Gallery hours: Tuesday - Saturday (11 am-6pm)

On June 22 at 6pm, there will be a performance by artist, Charmaine Wheatley, to introduce an installation of recent work at A.I.R. Gallery II, 40 Wooster Street, New York. The show will be up through July 8th, 1999.

The installation will consist of drawings, signed CD's, video, and multiple edition sculptures.

Charmaine's work deals with contemplating questions stemming from personal day-to-day observations from popular and commercial culture. Using herself as subject, her work stimulates discussion surrounding social issues through participative production, without implicating resolutions. The artist asks the audience to become engaged in critiquing the constructs of social behaviour or interaction. She challenges ideas surrounding the notions of looking and being seen, and the distinction between public and private spaces.
